► fáilte roimh chách ► welcome

Tá fáilte romhaibh go dtí an chéad bhliain de Fhéile Litríochta an Daingin.

Tá a ainm i n-áirde ag Corca Dhuibhne cheana as an gcruthaitheacht agus as a chuid féilte. Féile nua í seo, dírithe ar ealaíon na litríochta—ficsean agus neamh-fhicsean, Gaeilge agus Béarla—bunaithe ar léamhanna, ar cheardlanna, agus ar léirithe.

An fhís atá againn ná féile litríochta a bhunú i gCorca Dhuibhne, féile a mhairfidh go ceann roinnt mhaith blianta. Tá cáil na litríochta ar an leithinis, agus tá súil againn an chéad ghlúin eile scríbhneoirí is léitheoirí a chothú, as Gaeilge agus as Béarla, an deireadh seachtaine seo.

Ní thárlódh sé seo gan tacaíocht, ó dhaoine aonair agus ó chomhlachtaí. Bhain méid na tacaíochta san siar asainn, agus thug sé sin inspioráid dúinn treabhadh ar aghaidh agus na húdair agus na ceannairí is fearr a lorg do na ceardlanna. Gabhaim buíochas leis na Bunaitheoirí, a chuir a lámha ina bpócaí. Tá urraíocht facha ag imeachtaí áirithe ó chomhlachtaí áitiúla, agus táimid buíoch díobh. Tá chomhlachtaí againn chomh maith, gur mór an chabhair iad chun é seo a thabhairt ar an saol.

Cuirimid fáilte romhaibh freastal ar oiread imeachtaí agus is féidir.

*Le meas,
Sheila O'Reilly

Welcome to the inaugural Dingle Literary Festival.

The Dingle Peninsula is already widely known for its creativity and for its festivals. We are a new festival focused on the literary arts—fiction and non-fiction in English and Irish—delivered through readings, workshops and performance.

Our dream is to build a literary festival that will become part of the Dingle Peninsula creative landscape for many years. The Peninsula is renowned for literature and by dedicating a weekend to championing authors and books we hope to inspire and foster the next generation of writers and readers, in Irish and English.

The weekend could not happen without the tremendous support from individuals and business in West Kerry. The positive response was overwhelming, and it inspired us to forge ahead and secure the best authors and workshop leaders. I want to thank the Founders who put their hands in their pockets to support the festival. As you attend the festival events you will see events have been sponsored by local businesses and I thank them. We also have a group of Friends of 2019 who helped to make this happen.

We invite you to attend as many events as possible.
